I had some time to add a small functionality:

Users can now view the daily traffic and hits of the account.

As this tool only started to work today, there is no history data yet available. Tomorrow you should see then the data from today and the current day.

I also fixed a problem with logging in. If you still have issues with logging into your account please drop me a message.

Also IE8 user should now be able to login/signup without any issues anymore.
